Empty Bowls Project

December 14th will mark Northeast Minneapolis's 1st "Empty Bowls Project" which is an international grassroots movement to address hunger. Local artists provide ceramic bowls, vendors offer soup, guests pay whatever they can, keep the vessel, and all proceeds go to whichever recipient the group decides; typically to a local food shelf, though we're considering groups that promote sustainable food practices, and urban agriculture.

The event will take place at Eastside Neighborhood Services. Edison High School's fine arts department and its after school "Life Skills" cooking program will participate. Neighborhood vendors like Hazel's NE, Bulldog NE, and Chowgirls Catering are in, and we have commitments of 300+ bowls so far from Northeast potters and students. More information is available below on our facebook page, Empty Bowls NE and website <http://emptybowlsne.blogspot.com/the> Indeed Brewery parking lot to gain access to the SAB doors that lead to the 3rd floor event center.

Closing the Digital Divide in Logan Park

Trainer Mark Anderson is on hand to show people how to make labels, crop photos, order items on-line, check laptop security, upload resumes to job sites, make a Facebook account, use Audacity and other music sites. Some people show up who never have turned on a computer before and others have virus problems on their own computers that need an experienced hand to help. If you don't have a computer, that is okay. 807 Task Force Update

On October 15th, Hillcrest Development gave a status report on the progress at 807 Broadway. A right-of-way issue on Quincy Street has been discovered that affects all the businesses on Quincy Street. Hillcrest is working with the city to resolve this issue but it will take until January or later. Once this cleared up, Hillcrest will be able to close the sale with MPS. They will then begin updating and renovating areas of the building. They are planning to lease out the building in stages. They hope to quickly lease the office areas by this spring. Renovation of the shop areas will take longer.

The Task Force is once again working with students from MCAD on the project. We will be presenting our concepts for elements of the new 807 to Hillcrest in December. The 807 building was the only Minneapolis project to be awarded a DEED grant for storm water remediation – thanks to Nancy's hard work and expertise in this area! Thank you!
